

For the Headquarter of Montecchio Maggiore (VI), we are looking for a:

R&D ELECTRONIC TEST ENGINEER

The person will take care of the following activities:

- Plan and independently carry out electrical and tests on products following the directives of the supervisor
- Report on the management and on the results obtained of the same to the Laboratory Manager
- Actively participate in technical study groups for the improvement of the Company's processes and products
- Prepare and update the reports of the tests performed
- Prepare prototypes
- Develop and debug hardware and software for the products under development.

Requirements of the position:

- Bachelor/Master degree in Electronics/Informatic Engineering or Energetic Engineering
- Previous experience in Laboratory is preferred
- English written and spoken
- Office, Excel; programming C ++
- 2/3 years of job experience is appreciated (Junior).

Requirements of the person:

- Open minded
- Electronics (hardware/software) passionate
- Flexibility
- Team working

Workplace: Montecchio Maggiore (VI).

Le ricerche sono rivolte a candidati di ambo i sessi, legge 903/77.